PRESENTED BY BENEFITING THE DAYTON METRO LIBRARY FOUNDATION

PNC
Tonight, as we preview this incredible new Main Library, we hope you recognize that you are part of a once-in-a-lifetime celebration. As Co-Chairs of Team 17, the volunteer committee responsible for orchestrating THE MAIN EVENT, we’re proud to have led our team to present this exciting event. Our planning was guided by three goals: to showcase the Library’s transformation, to attract diverse audiences, and to empower new ambassadors to share the story of the Library’s vital role in our community.

Oh, and during our two-year planning cycle, we also established an unspoken mission – to throw a party like this town has never seen before! So, welcome! You are making history as we pull back the curtain to unveil this stunning community asset.

As you explore all three floors, marveling at the beautiful new spaces filled with energy and entertainment, discovering food, drink, hands-on activities, live art and exciting performers at every turn, we know you’ll see the unlimited potential that exists in YOUR new Main Library.

We are grateful to our fellow loyal and creative Team 17 volunteers, the Library staff, and each and every sponsor for making THE MAIN EVENT possible. We are inspired knowing that tonight’s proceeds directly benefit the Foundation, helping the Library address critical community needs, and continuing its mission to inform, inspire and enrich us all.

Shhhhh No More.... Welcome, and enjoy THE MAIN EVENT!

Michelle Kaye & Rodney Veal
Co-Chairs, THE MAIN EVENT
On behalf of...

...the Dayton Metro Library Foundation – Welcome to THE MAIN EVENT!

As a long-time library volunteer I have learned why an affiliated Library Foundation must exist for our Library: a Foundation fuels aspirations.

The Library’s work is more critical now than ever. The Library is deeply connected to so many community-wide initiatives that have the capacity to dramatically impact early childhood literacy, third grade reading proficiency, and out-of-school enrichment, as well as career and workforce development. These initiatives need funding.

While the Library will always be a trusted resource for information, and a joyful space that encourages the love of learning, the institution must also be a strong partner to address contemporary community needs.

The Foundation works to help the Library with efforts that fall outside of the general tax-supported budget, allowing the Library to nimbly respond to societal trends.

Your participation in THE MAIN EVENT, whether as a funder, performer, vendor, volunteer, or attendee, makes a strong statement: You believe in the unlimited potential that our Library represents. Thank you for joining us, and thank you for helping us celebrate this momentous occasion – for ALL of us, with lasting outcomes.

Gratefully,

MICHAEL MERZ
President, Dayton Metro Library Foundation

FLOOR 3
The architecture of the new Main Library was influenced by the original location of the 1888 Library near the canal. The bend in the Atrium is an architectural nod to the canal that ran along what is now Patterson Boulevard.

Water (Dayton’s rivers and the old canal) is a source of architectural inspiration that can be seen in the bridges that span the grand staircase and in the bridge leading into the Children’s Imagine Portal.

The strong structural core of the 1962 building remains the foundation of the new Main Library. The two lower levels of the old building were originally built to hold books and government documents that, now being digital, no longer require storage. As a result, these levels were converted into an underground parking garage with no additional structural reinforcement needed.

The new Main Library has four times the public space of the previous building (120,000 square feet of public space; 224,000 square feet total).

71 steps in the grand staircase take you from the first floor to the third.

Fractal Rain, the art installation by Terry Welker, weighs a total of 1,000 lbs., contains 3,768 prisms and 389 Swarovski crystals.

Skanska ATCS is proud to build Libraries for a Smarter Future for Dayton Metro Library.

Building What Matters

usa.skanska.com
As the Libraries for a Smarter Future plan was taking shape, the Library received a generous, anonymous bequest intended to enhance our Libraries. With public art in mind, the Board of Trustees requested proposals from arts organizations for a project that would result in new artwork at each Dayton Metro Library location. ReImagining Works, a collaboration with THE DAYTON ART INSTITUTE, was born.

For the Main Library, Monet’s classic Waterlilies, Nam June Pak’s mixed media sculpture Four Decades, and the ancient Peruvian Mummy Mask were selected by public vote to be re-imagined, and six artist proposals were accepted. Plaques near each installation provide artist comments and details.

VISCOITY GARDEN BY SUSAN BYRNES, Cincinnati. Ninety individual cast rubber tiles form this piece on the east wall of the Oehlers Great Reading Room, Third Floor.

TRUSS AND RIVER BY GRETCHEN DURST JACOBS, Dayton. An oil on panel painting for the west wall of Parkside Place, Second Floor.

RIVER BY KATHERINE KADISH, Yellow Springs. Five monotypes on the north wall of the Berry Quiet Reading Room, Second Floor.

EN PLEIN AIR BY ANDREA MYERS, Columbus. Machine-sewn fabric collages on the south wall of the Oehlers Great Reading Room, Third Floor.

FRACTAL RAIN BY TERRY WELKER, Kettering. A large, kinetic sculpture of stainless steel wire and acrylic prisms hanging in The Atrium.

MORNING GLORY BY PAULA WILMOT KRAUS, Dayton. An inkjet print in Parkside Place, Second Floor.

ReImagining Works pieces have also been installed at the Electra C. Doren, Miami Township, Northwest, Brookville, New Lebanon, Kettering-Moraine, Vandalia and Miamisburg Branch Libraries. The project continues for the duration of the Libraries for a Smarter Future project.
